Killed, one injured and two driven temporarily insane as a result of the terrific outburst from the crater, which had been latent for many years.

Two eruptions occurred to-day. A huge column of dense black smoke, steam and ashes was shot 2,090 feet in the air. The pillar of smoke was watched from towns fifty miles distant. Throughout the middle of the day, the crater was quiescent, but at 7 o'clock to-night, a second funnel of smoke and ashes shot skyward. It was larger in volume than the morn-
